

WOULD YOU MAKE A GOOD COURT REPORTER?

Ask yourself:

1. Do you like to read?
  - Reading expands vocabulary and enhances language skills.
2. Are you detail-oriented?
  - Court transcripts must be 100% complete and accurate.
3. Are you punctual?
  - The proceeding can't begin without the court reporter present.
4. Do you manage your time well?
  - Transcripts need to be produced in a timely manner.
5. Do have strong computer skills and can you type well?
  - Keyboard skills speed up transcript production.
6. Are you good with Google?
  - There are often names and terms to research with transcripts.
7. Do you enjoy a good story?
  - Deposition testimony in court cases is often very interesting.
8. Do you enjoy making money?
  - Court reporters are well compensated.
9. Are you good with grammar and punctuation?
  - Being a "grammar geek" makes the job easier.
10. Do you aspire to a job that is unique and satisfying?
  - Court reporting definitely fits the bill!
